SERGIO ARAGONES MARGINALS XL

Looking at his tiny, intricate "marginal" cartoons, you'd assume that Sergio Aragones must have the hands of a surgeon. But that's not the case (although he does insist on wearing the latex gloves for some reason)! In truth, he submits his cartoons in the same lush size you see here, we just shrink them down for the issue. Sure, it may be kind of cruel, but if he wanted better treatment, he should have gone to medical school!
